

Photo Credits: Steve Deeley

The Nurturing Nature Project

- Do you want to learn new skills in recording wildlife?
- Do you want to volunteer in your local area?
- Are you interested in helping us to understand current biodiversity of the Chase & Chalke area and identify where we can improve habitats for wildlife?

Scan the QR code to sign up as a volunteer

Photo Credits: Steve Deeley

More about the project

- Free training, unique volunteering opportunities, incredible experience, in an amazing landscape with wonderful people. What's not to love?
- Aims to train over 100 people who have little or no experience in wildlife surveying to become 'biological recorders' on Cranborne Chase.
- Will provide new surveyors with expert training in a variety of new survey skills, including surveying for plants, birds, insects, mammals and much more.

Scan the QR code to sign up as a volunteer

www.cranbornechase.org.uk/chaseandchalke/nurturing-nature/

